

master the basics

In the VDEC PRIME Study Club you will be coached on how to clinically develop skill sets in basic to advanced restorative dentistry, surgery, diagnosis and treatment planning on your own patients. Throughout your time at the study club you will learn the cultural ethos that make up VDEC's vision for our doctors who serve their neighbours in the community.

As a new doctor, this program will provide clinical, social, and business development skills as you will have access to decades of experience through doctors, clinicians, and managers. Our goal is for you to become an extraordinary dentist and do amazing things for your patients. High level of skills and ethics are the foundation of this program which will help our profession well into the future.

Meet Dr. Dylan Olver

Dr. Olver completed his Bachelor of Science in Microbiology and Immunology and then went on to study Dentistry at UBC. During his time there, Dylan served as the Dental Undergraduate Society President, the President of the Student Research Group and also volunteered as Student Chief of Community Outreach. Post grad he continues to volunteer and be a member of numerous local study clubs. Five years out he's hoping to help young dentists thrive in their first years as he's just gone through it progressing to practice purchase in 2021.

Meet Dr. Morris Huang

Dr. Huang graduated from UBC with a bachelor degree in Microbiology & Immunology. In 2017, he received his Doctorate of Dental Medicine at UBC. His passion for dentistry led him to learn from dental industry leaders through lectures, continuing education, and personal mentorship. Accruing hundreds of hours of education each year in a multitude of specialized fields of dentistry Dr. Huang remains at the forefront of current state of dentistry.

Meet Dr. Wilson J Kwong

A graduate of the Faculty of Dentistry at UBC. Dr. Kwong is based in Vancouver where he founded his successful Oakridge practice, as well as Inspire Dental Group – a growing dental brand. Dr. Kwong is also the founder of Vancouver Dental Education Centre (VDEC) for new dentists. He was previously a clinical instructor at the UBC Faculty of Dentistry and a respected lecturer for Nobel Biocare and Ivoclar throughout North America.
